INTRODUCTION

ADAM ESTERLINE, the founder of the branch of the Esterline family which this history describes, was one of a family of three boys; namely, Adam, John, and William, who resided in York County, Pennsylvania. Two of these have been lost trace of. We know that Adam married Elizabeth Slaybaugh and established a home in Pennsylvania. In 1840 the family came to Ohio, locating in Clarke county. Many of the descendants still reside there, but many are scattered in all parts of the United States.

The purpose of this history is to give the direct connection of each of the known descendants of Adam Esterline. It is not intended to go into any detail but instead to provide means for coming generations to trace back the history of the family.

The first reunion was held at the home of Frank Urick in Clarke County, Ohio, in August, 1919. At that time an association was formed and since then a reunion has been held annually. These reunions enable the older relatives to renew their relationships and to form the acquaintance of the younger relatives.

This history is taken up by generations. Adam Esterline is the first generation. His nine children are the second generation. Their children are the third and so on. Each descendant is numbered beginning with Adam Esterline, who is No. 1. His children, Maria, 2; Samuel, 3; Susan, 4; etc. A history of each person is given in numerical order. The index includes the name of every known descendant, and is given with his or her number.

FIRST GENERATION

I. ADAM ESTERLINE.

The first ancestor of whom we have any knowledge is Adam Esterline who was married to Elizabeth Slaybaugh while living in York County, Pennsylvania. They became the parents of five children, three girls and two boys while living in Pennsylvania and then decided to come west into Ohio in 1840, locating near New Carlisle in Clarke County, where they became the parents of four more children, three boys and one girl.

Adam, being a cooper by trade, he established a cooper shop in New Carlisle, which he conducted successfully until taken by death in 1847.

Following his death his widow, Elizabeth, with the assistance of their children, cared for a tollgate in the district, now known as Olive Branch, and was successful in raising her family, which is the pride of a mother's heart.

Elizabeth Esterline was removed by death about 1878.
